Moving Forward: Legal Solutions to Lake Erie’s Harmful Algal Blooms
April 15, 2015

Please join Lucas County Commissioner Carol Contrada and the Board of Lucas County Commissioners for a regional water presentation – Moving Forward: Legal Solutions to Lake Erie’s Harmful Algal Blooms, authored by Jack Tuholske, Director of Vermont Law School Water & Justice Program, and Ken Kilbert, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs & Professor at the University of Toledo College of Law, and Director of Legal Institute of the Great Lakes.

The report identifies available legal tools under Ohio and federal law as potential solutions to Lake Erie’s environmental challenges. The report also provides recommendations for policymakers to address these issues that we face both in our local communities and collectively as neighbors throughout the Western Lake Erie Basin and Maumee River Watershed.

Who: Federal, State, and Local elected officials, key municipal administrators, and water quality experts in the Western Lake Erie Basin and Maumee River Watershed

What: Public Release of Report and Forum Discussion

When: Wednesday, April 15, 2015
9:30am-10:00am – Public Release of Report
10:00am-12:00pm – Forum Discussion and Q&A with Lucas County Commissioner Carol Contrada and Professors Jack Tuholske and Ken Kilbert

Where: National Museum of the Great Lakes
1701 Front St
Toledo, OH 43605

To RSVP, please contact Steve Spitler by email (sspitler@co.lucas.oh.us) or by phone (419-213-2155).