ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY JOB AND FAMILY SERVICE DEPARTMENTS

July 2022

County commissioners are given broad discretion with respect to how various human service programs are administered at the local level. Commissioners may have the County Department of Job and Family Services (CDJFS) administer not only public assistance programs, but also children services, child support, and workforce development. Conversely, commissioners may designate standalone PCSAs, CSEAs, and WDAs to fulfill the child support, children services, and workforce development functions. Commissioners also have the option to designate any public or private entity to serve these roles. Often these county departments are referred to as double, triple, or quadruple combined agencies. Yet, regardless of which entities a county designates to perform these roles, each entity must follow all legal requirements.

Commissioners may change the designation but must strictly follow the provisions of ORC Section 307.981 and Ohio Administrative Code Sections 5101:9-1-22 and 5101:9-1-23. The following table shows the current designations.
